GERMANY ACCEPTS PEACE TERMS ON CONDITIONS.

BERLIN, June 23.—Germany will sign the peace treaty of the allied and associated powers.

The national assembly Sunday afternoon by vote of 237 to 138 decided to sign.

The assembly also voted confidence in the new government of Herr Bauer 236 to 89. Sixty-eight members abstained from voting. On the question of signing the treaty five members abstained from voting.

Before the vote of confidence was taken, Herr Bauer, the new premier, declared that the government would sign the treaty, but without acknowledging the responsibility of the German people for the war and without accepting the obligations contained in articles 227 to 230 in the treaty, relating to the trial of the former Emperor and the extradition of other German personages.

PARIS, June 23.—The German government has appointed Dr. Daniel von Haimhausen, of the Peace delegation, to conduct the peace arrangements at Versailles.

It is understood that the allies insist on absolute unconditional acceptance of the terms, failing which, the armies will begin to advance Monday evening.

PARIS, June 23.—The Council of Four has definitely rejected the German suggestion that further alterations be made in the peace treaty.

PARIS, June 23.—The German government at Weimar has formerly communicated its willingness to sign the peace terms unconditionally, it was announced by the French foreign office this afternoon.

The day and hour for the formal signing of the treaty is uncertain. The signing possibly may take place Tuesday, but more likely Wednesday.

The Italian delegates at present in Paris have been authorized to sign the treaty on behalf of Italy. This announcement removed one question which it was feared might delay the signing.

WOMAN'S CLUB ENDORSES STATE SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

The Women's Club of Central Kentucky has given its cordial endorsement to the project for a memorial building at the University of Kentucky as a tribute to those Kentuckians who gave their lives for their country in the war with Germany, and for which a campaign to raise $300,000 in the State and from alumni of the University, whether now residents of Kentucky or not, is to be launched soon. Miss N. Isabel Schmidt, president of the club, in a letter to the committee in charge of the memorial building fund, submitted the resolution in which the club endorsed the project.

The plan has the endorsement of the Board of Trustees of the University, which took favorable action on the project at a recent meeting of its executive committee. The University furnished 1,068 men for the different branches of the service, including alumni, and of these twenty gave their lives. Kentucky furnished between 2,700 and 2,800 men who were killed in action or died of wounds or disease in the service.

Judge E. W. Hines, chairman of the Kentucky Council of Defense, has been chosen as the head of the movement in the State and he will be assisted by a committee of fifty of Kentucky's most prominent men and women interested in the University and its future. The actual work of the drive for the fund will be finished in September.

CARNIVAL COMPANY TO FILL IN WEEK HERE.

The Wallick & Jackson Shows, a carnival attraction, is booked to show in Paris this week, beginning yesterday. The shows, rated as a good one, arrived yesterday and pitched tents on the Wilson lot, near the Louisville & Nashville passenger station, on Winchester street.

is said, is couched in such language that it maintains the German position that the peace conditions are a peace of violence.

HEALTH BOARDS TO TAKE ACTION ON DAM QUESTION.

The dam question is up again, and this time in an aggravated form. It was said yesterday that at a meeting of the County and City Boards of Health, after due and mature deliberation and consideration of the matter, that representatives of the Board would appear before Judge Stout in the Bourbon Circuit Court this morning, and ask for a restraining order of the grand jury.

It was stated that this decision was reached after statements had been made as to the condition of the water supply of Paris, and the low stage of the river, due to the going out of the dam at the Paris Milling Co.'s plant. It was also stated that a decision was reached to ask the grand jury to indict parties responsible for this state of affairs, unless the matter was satisfactorily adjusted and ample assurance given that it would be rectified immediately. It was stated that the water supply was not up to the standard and that something must be done for the protection of the citizens of Paris from disease.

LATER.—At a meeting of representatives of the Paris Water Company, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, and the Paris Milling Company, held in the office of Mr. E. M. Dickson, attorney for the Louisville & Nashville yesterday afternoon, all the phases of the question were gone over and the conference of the attorneys agreed substantially on all the points at issue. The contracts for the construction of the new dam will be signed this morning, the construction work to be taken in hand by the Louisville & Nashville, under the direct supervision of their civil engineers, and the work is to begin at once, as soon as the material can be placed and the necessary arrangements made. This information was given to THE NEWS at a late hour yesterday afternoon by Mayor E. B. January.

Councilman Merringer, of the committee to look after the matter, says, in order that the people may not be deceived, that the contract will not be signed this morning, but is now being drawn up by the City Attorney. It will have to go to Louisville for the signatures of the proper officials of the L. & N. Railroad; and that the matter has progressed that far before without results.

BLACKBIRDS BECOMING NUISANCE.

The blackbird, long considered one of the most inoffensive of the feathered tribe, is now in danger of becoming classed with the English sparrow and others that have made their names synonyms of aversion. The blackbird is beginning to learn some of the most disagreeable habits of the sparrow, such as perching in the tops of trees in the residence districts in the early hours of the morning, when citizens are trying to get a little desirable sleep, and making more noise than the average citizen likes to hear.

In some sections of the city the blackbirds have become such pests that the citizens have resorted to the use of shotguns in an effort to drive them away. They come in overwhelming numbers and by their continued noise drive the citizens to the point of wishing there was no such thing as a blackbird.

A Paris traveling man, who "makes" a great deal of territory in Central Kentucky which is the natural habitat of the blackbird, states that the same conditions are prevailing there and that the birds are coming into the fields in great numbers and even getting their living from many of the growing crops.

ESCOBA NEARLY READY FOR THE TRACK AGAIN.

Escoba, now four, the son of Broomstick and Christmas Star, and owned by Kenneth D. Alexander, of Woodford county, is nearly ready for a race, having been in charge of John S. Ward for several weeks. Escoba won the Breeders' Futurity at Lexington during his two-year-old form in 1917, and ran second in the Kentucky Derby in the spring of the following year. He is ineligible to any of the stakes to be run at the present meeting at Latonia, not having been entered because of the belief that he would not be ready so early after his season in the stud.

NEW AUTO NEWS.

The "Sample Case" department of Sunday's Lexington Herald has this to say of Bourbon men who are interested in the auto business: J. C. Mason and J. W. Bush, of the White Truck Company, of Paris, are doing team work and getting results.

INTERESTING LETTER

The following letter was received recently by the Misses Whaley, of this city from their sister, Miss Nell Whaley, who is Reconstruction Aide at Camp Upton, Long Island.

Miss Whaley is teaching English and Mathematics to the disabled soldiers at the Base Hospital. Since being there she has been promoted to the position of Assistant to the head Reconstruction Aide:

"Base Hospital, Camp Upton, N. Y.
"June 8, 1919.

"DEAR SISTERS:

"Last week we had a visit and a most inspiring talk from Major Evans, of Washington, the man who is at the head of the Reconstruction Service. He gave us some interesting statistics. During one week of April, in 38 military hospitals, 88,000 treatments were given by the 700 Physiotherapy Aides for nerve injuries. During the month of April, in 43 hospitals, there were working 2,034 Occupational-Therapy Aides, teaching the wounded soldiers how to regain the use of their muscles in the making of baskets, bead-chains, carved boxes, woven rugs and mats, belts, neck-ties, bags, and so on. In addition, this work helps wonderfully to keep up their spirits, and so is of double curative value. Out of 2,148 S. C. D. cases (Surgeon's Certificate of Disability) discharged in April, only 13 were institutional cases; and out of 7,145 cases discharged between December and April, only 51 were institutional. Of the 34,400 hospital population, 50 per cent. were available for reconstruction service, and 65 per cent. of that number were engaged in some work. Major Evans stated that the women workers were up to the highest standard and graded 100 per cent, and that they, more than any other class of people, could put 'pep' and the proper spirit for the future into the wounded soldiers. He said the boys should be encouraged to quit thinking and talking about the 'dreadful affair,' and not let their interests in life end with their war experiences, as the majority of Civil War veterans did.

"The result of the government's Reconstruction program are greatly praised in the magazine 'Garry On.' Many hundreds of boys are being re-educated, one boy having said, 'The education I am getting in this hospital is worth the leg I left in France.' At our hospital there are about 60 Reconstruction Aides at work, teaching the boys in the wards, many of whom are flat on their backs or so injured they cannot work. It is wonderful to see the work they do with the left hand. The ambulatory patients go to K-12, the big school building, where they are taught anything from English to auto-mechanics, telegraphy, typewriting, mechanical drawing, clay-moulding, advanced English and Mathematics, Science, Psychology, in fact, any study they call for. It is interesting to note that nearly all the boys are ambitious to learn something new, or if they do

MEMORIAL EXERCISES

The annual memorial exercises of the Knights of Pythias lodge of Paris, will be held in the Paris Cemetery next Sunday afternoon, June 29. Short exercises will be held in the lodge room preceding the memorial exercises. The members of the subordinate lodge with the Uniform Rank, will march in a body to the cemetery, where the graves of departed brothers will be decorated, and appropriate exercises held. Hon. John T. Howe, of Covington, newly-elected Grand Chancellor of the order, is expected to be present, and will deliver the principal address. Short addresses will be made by members of the local lodge, and an appropriate musical program will be observed.

TIRES MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEAR.

Two new rubber tires and inner tubes, costing in the neighborhood of $68, are mourned as a personal property loss by Mr. E. E. Landis, of the Paris Mercantile Delivery Co., unless recovered by now.

Friday night Mr. Landis purchased the new tires and tubes from a local garage, and fastening them to the side of his car, started down Main street. After proceeding about a block he stripped the gears of his car, and had to leave the machine on the side of the street. When he returned in about ten minutes the articles were missing, the unbuckled straps giving evidence that they had been stolen. The police were notified, but at this writing no traces of the missing tires have been discovered.

C., where she has a position in the Treasury Department as clerk. Mr. Robert Mahar will be in the office here as telephone operator.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT

In the Bourbon Circuit Court, Friday, the jury trying the case of the administrator of Bobby Burns' estate vs. the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company brought in a verdict awarding judgment to the plaintiffs in the sum of $22,500. This is said to have been the highest judgment for damages ever given in a Bourbon county court. The style of the case was Mrs. Inez B. Burns, executrix of Bobby Burns, vs. Walker D. Hines, Director-General of Railroads. The suit was brought for $50,000 damages for the death of Burns, who was run over by an engine in the yards at Corbin, on the night of December 13, 1918, causing injuries which resulted in his death two days later.

Burns was a well-known L. & N. engineer, a resident of this city. While at work in the Louisville & Nashville yards in Corbin he started for the oil house to get a supply of oil for his engine. While he was retracing his steps he was knocked down by an engine backing up and run over. He left a widow and five small children, the eldest being twelve years old.

The jury trying the case was composed of the following: Carl Williams, Matt Lair, L. D. Mitchell, Curtis Henry, L. V. Hagan, Wm. Harrison, R. H. Wills, Clarence Ashurst, H. N. Eckler, R. I. Welling. The plaintiff was represented by Robert B. Franklin, of Frankfort, and Talbot & Whitley, of Paris, the defendant by E. M. Dickson, of Paris, H. L. Bryan, of Williamsburg, and A. M. Warren, of Stanford.

Court adjourned Saturday afternoon until to-day, after hearing but one civil case. This was the case of W. F. Turner against Wm. H. Whaley, arising from a dispute over a livestock deal. The jury gave a verdict for Turner in the sum of $1,056, subject to a credit of $50.

MUSICAL ATTRACTION AT THE GRAND AND ALAMO.

The Brewer Jazz Orchestra, composed of accomplished musicians, who make a specialty of Jazz music, began a week's engagement yesterday at the Alamo and the Paris Grand. This organization lays no particular claim to musical excellence, but do claim they can entertain and amuse the music-loving public, with the Jazz music they like to hear, the kind that makes one want to pat both hands and feet in unison with the music.

THIS YEAR'S CHAUTAUQUA TO BE BIG ONE.

Paris people may rest assured that the Chautauqua program which is to be presented here the week of July 8, under the auspices of the White & Myers Chautauqua System, of Kansas City, Mo., will be one of the best that has ever been presented to them.

The publicity committees have been busy this week getting their program laid out, and some of the work, such as advertising window cards, have been put out. The real work of the committee will come later on, when the program has been positively decided upon. The public will be glad to know that the mistakes of former years will be avoided this year, and that the programs will be presented under shelter, at the Paris Grand Opera House, where comfort will be assured and the enjoyment of the program a certainty, without having a stream of water trickling down the neck from the holes in a leaky tent.

The program, as present considered, will be made up of the following: Pianoforte, light tuneful opera; Dr. J. S. Montgomery, "The Voice of the New Age;" Robert Goldsmith, "The League of Nations;" Dunbar's White Hussar Band, a singing band; Corning's Old Colonial Band; Baldy Strang's Entertainers; C. W. Wasam, "The Secret Power;" Dr. E. E. Violette, a big Paris favorite, lecturing on "The Sunset Trail;" Emily Waterman Concert Party; Dr. John A. Gary, slummer and lecturer, who tells the story of being "Out of Work;" Elizabeth Hunt, Red Cross Nurse; Marie Van Gastel, Belgian War Nurse, in the story of "The Invasion of Belgium."

Season tickets are now on sale at the following prices: Adults, $2.20; children, $1.10, war tax included. The tickets can be obtained at the drug stores and at other places to be indicated later on.

What You Think of This?

Don't you get tired sometimes listening to speakers telling you how to do things and how not to do things? I have in mind a bunch who are almost fanatical in their demands that we change our style of letter writing. They insist that we cut out "beg to remain," "your letter received," "under separate cover,"
"wish to advise," "Yours very truly,"
"Dear Sir," and all "platitudes" and used phrases. Perhaps they are right and we often receive a letter without these superfluous phrases that almost convince us, because the writer seems to have sat down and written just what he thought in a natural, frank way. But about nine-tenths of the letters written by those who have tried to follow the advice of the aforesaid writers and speakers are too apparent attempts to be different or clever—you seem to feel that the writer is thinking more of how to say something than he is of seriously saying something—and the "punch"
which the author put in the letter
had leaked out before the mail was delivered.

Dear Sir" and "Yours truly"
are all right. They are good, polite terms just like "How'dy do" and
"Good-bye" and "Merry Christmas"
and "Happy New Year." They do not mean much, I'll admit, but they are refined and will offend no one.
They, these writers, say you should start a letter with something that will make a fellow sit up and take notice. If a salesman came into your office and politely addressed you with that old meaningless platitude
"How do you do, Mr. Jones?" and if a more, more modern, came in and slapping you on the back exclaimed
"Now Listen, Jones," which would you prefer to grant an interview to?
Of course you would, and it's very often the same with a letter.

"Under separate cover" is all right.
It means something. It's a good phrase to use, yet I've seen magazine writers throw a metaphorical fit about it.

"Your letter received" is also good
even though it jars the sensibilities of these modern guys. We often write just to "acknowledge receipt of letter" and "advise" that the "contents were noted." And if that's the reason we write, why not say it in that way, and that is often all our correspondent wants to know. If we had "received his letter" and "noted
the contents," what's the use of trying to be clever when it isn't necessary?

Get Aboard.

School was out and the streets were full of children, laughing and shouting; little girls with their arms around each other's necks;
little boys with their hands in each other's hair; tens, hundreds, thousands of them—or, at least, it seemed so, as they darted here and there
like a school of minnows in a pond.

A big furniture van was moving up the street and the driver with a long whip in his hand.

Suddenly a cry arose, "Whip behind! Whip behind! Mister, whip behind!"

We followed the direction in which the warning fingers were pointed and saw, snugly enconced in the open spaces between the chairs and tables at the rear of the load, three little grinning urchins.

The driver stood up and looked over the top of the load, but could see nothing. He leaned around the side of the wagon and gazed. It was in vain. Then he sat down, observing, no doubt, that the wagon stood the extra load well, and that the horses did not feel the added weight.

But the cry resounded again in the street, "Whip behind! Whip behind, Mister, whip behind!"

As we went on about our business
we fell to analyzing this trait of human nature which inspired the lads in the street to seek to rout their playmates who had secured the comfortable place on the wagon and were stealing a ride. Was it only envy after all?

And then we thought how this spirit of pulling the other fellow down followed us through life. If someone has an easy berth we cry,
"the monopolists are stealing a ride."

After all, isn't it laziness and envy that prompt the cry? Why do not more of us ride? There seems to be plenty of room in the great van of the Government that Uncle Sam is driving. Why not jump aboard, instead of pulling down the men who catch the rides? If you believe in our natural resources, our democratic institutions and the integrity of the people, climb aboard. What we need in Paris and in the United States of America is not to prevent a few bright fellows from riding, but to jump aboard ourselves and pull up
the weak and the poor and the unfortunate.

The great van of Opportunity is coming down the road. Stop shouting, "Whip behind!"
Get aboard.

SUGGESTS SMOKING IN CHURCH.

London.—It is curious when matters of such serious moment are agitating the world that such a suggestion as the one made by some members of St. James Church, Bermond-sey, that smoking be allowed in church, should have excited so much controversy. It looks, too, as if the "ayes" were in the majority.

Smoking in church, one advocate of a pipe during sermon says, was allowed in England up till the reign of James I. But one does not need to go so far back to find smoking in church common in some parts of England. In 1861 a visitor to an Essex church was shown, stowed
away in various nooks in the gallery,
short pipes smoked by the congregation while the services were going on. In Wales, too, as late as 1850, the start of the sermon was the signal for the lighting of the pipes of the men in the congregation.

Sir Walter Scott records how farmers in the country districts of Scotland were accustomed to light up as soon as the minister announced the text. Isaac Barrow called tobacco his panpharmakon, or cure-all. Bishop Burnet was so loath to part with his pipe that he cut a hole in his hat
to support it. Doctor Parr used regularly to smoke in the vestry before his sermon while the congregation
was singing, "My people like long hymns," he said, "but I prefer long clays."

WE ASTONISH THE WORLD

In spite of their tremendous annual bill for fiery liquors the American people are notoriously a race of water drinkers. The fact has always been commented upon with amazement by foreigners, and especially the American habit of taking the water iced. It has also been mentioned with scientific pain by many of our own medical experts, who have tried to impress us with the dangers of the habit. A friend is reminded by the impending menace to send us this clipping of an ancient and familiar quatrain:

"Many a mortal, young and old,
Has gone to his sarcophagus
Through pouring water, icy cold,
Adown his warm esophagus."

The author of the bit of scientific morality is not known. Our friend says he clipped it from the Chicago Tribune some years ago, and possibly it is to be credited to Eugene Field. Anyway, it sounds something like him. But we are not sure that it is scientifically correct. There are many who still persist, in spite of the warnings, in the theory that the drinking of ice water, under reasonable conditions, is in no way harmful.

KENTUCKY BANKERS OPPOSED TO WILLIAMS' APPOINTMENT.

At each of the eleven group meetings of bankers held in this State resolutions were adopted and forwarded to the Kentucky Senators at Washington, urging that the appointment of John Shelton Williams as Comptroller of the Currency not be approved by the United States Senate,
State Banking Commissioner Speer
said on his return from the last meeting. Mr. Williams has met with opposition from the bankers because of the fact that he has required reports which the bankers believe are detrimental to their business interests. The reports cover the use to which money borrowed from the banks is to be put, with the amount for each purpose.

The group meetings this year were more successful than any previous year, Mr. Speer said. They were better attended and there was a greater interest manifested. The bankers have determined to do much in the work of reconstruction in the country, Mr. Speer said.

Improved Lightship Bell.

A new lightship also has a bell,
which is made to ring automatically
by means of a highly ingenious device
which utilizes the gas as it passes
from the tanks to the lantern, to ac-tuate the bell clapper. The light is not interfered with in the slightest degree by the operation of the bell-striking device. It is only set in motion, however, in very foggy weather, when the light cannot be distinguished at any great distance.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever,
or at least until we find out how much it cost.

go back to their old 'job' they want to be ready for an advancement. They have a wonderfully cheerful and independent spirit—they object to pity and charity and there's not one I've talked with who is expecting a job
just because he is a returned soldier.
They are having time now to do more reading and more thinking than ever in their lives before, and I think their hospital experience,
where they are surrounded by companions and attended with excellent care, is the best thing possible to bridge over the gap between the horrors of war and the return to civilian life.

"The hospital population here, perhaps 2,500, has plenty of amusement
and attention from the Red Cross, Y.
M. C. A., and K. of C. There are good picture shows, lectures, vaudeville, athletic meets, baseball, and so on. On Sundays there are Protestant and Catholic services. The Educational Services gives a 'party' at K-12
every Wednesday night, where the patients who can come (and some come on crutches and in wheelchairs) are entertained with games, plays, music, (they sing every word
of every popular song that is going),
and 'eats.' The boys who have to stay in bed are entertained by different artists who come from New York.
The Red Cross has a traveling piano
set up on wheels—it goes the rounds of the wards. I have had the pleasure of playing for these boys, and you should hear them whistle and sing from their beds; they like rag-
time, but best of all, the old songs.
I played also at the Y. M. C. A. movies, and over at one of the Camp Hostess House. The Hostess in charge told us about how the boys amuse themselves with the Ouija Board.
Their three favorite questions are:
How long before I get out? Is my girl waiting for me? Is my girl true to me?"

"Lots of funny things happen every day. The boys have pets—a canary bird, a white pup, named
"Ja-Da," and numerous kittens, which they will sneak into bed with them. People from the towns near by have brought them loads of beautiful flowers—lilies, pansies, snow-balls,
wiggles, peonies, daisies, everything,
all so gorgeous and large. They also treat the boys with cake and iced drinks on hot days. In one of the "English to Foreigners" classes, one boy asked the teacher how to ask a young lady to dance with him. She told him several forms, and he chose.
"May I have the pleasure of this dance with you?" only his version was
"May I have the 'pressure' of this dance with you?" Another boy had the word 'physique' in his spelling lesson, and he asked if that was the same 'physic' the nurses gave him out of a bottle.

"I must tell you about W. A., a noted New York prize-fighter, the pet of the hospital, who is working, as he says, for six teachers. This boy is a typical product of the Lower East Side of New York City. He is a most interesting character, with a large amount of native wit and a heart of gold. He stammers from shell shock, and you should hear him read
"Gunga-Din" and French poetry. He is studying short story writing and is a budding poet, as some of his poems (?) which I asked his permission to copy from his typewritten collection, will show. Many of the boys are turning poetic, and in addition to these we have artists, and musicians of all kinds. There's a great deal of talent among them.

"On Decoration Day all of Camp Upton (which is two miles from the hospital) and the hospital force, including nurses, student nurses and aides, marched to the Camp Cemetery
where a brief but very impressive memorial service was held. All the girls carried flowers, which were placed on the graves of the Camp Upton boys. In the afternoon a fine field meet was held. All this was taken by the motion picture man,
and we will see ourselves as others
see us this week.

The most wonderful thing I have seen was the Victory Parade in New York City—there were 20 bands, floats representing everything used in the army—quartermaster's supplies, construction service, air service, gas masks on men and horses,
tanks, engineers' division, wire entanglements, trenches, telephone service, pigeons, homes with mothers
and children, and marching in uniform, soldier boys and every kind of worker that has been in service; it took four hours for this parade to pass the corner of 52nd Street and Fifth avenue, and at the end were two rooms built between start and finish of the parade. The funniest thing was to see three barracks and a hospital ward coming sedately down Fifth Avenue.

"On one of my trips to 'little old
New York,' my friend, Rose Starratt, met me and showed me many sights.
I had two business engagements
which we attended to first, then
then lunch at a quaint little cafeteria managed by some lovely women (ex-teachers) then to the Battery,
that part of the city on New York
Bay, where we saw all sorts of boats.
It was a foggy day and we couldn't see the Statue of Liberty nor the tower of the Woolworth building. We walked through Wall Street into old Trinity Church, and by the grave yard, visited the old Frances Tavern where George Washington had his headquarters and where the doorkeeper is dressed in the style of Washington's day. Many old historic relics are seen here.

"We traveled by elevated railway,
also made my initial trip in the subway, which was the most novel thing. Some parts of the system are 400 feet under ground and it is said to be the safest railway in the world.
New York is over solid granite-like stone. We went home then on the surface car for miles and saw many interesting places. That night we went to see Mrs. Fiske in 'Miss Nellie From N'Orleans,' and saw Broadway with all its electrical signs. Of course they are wonderful, but I think not very cultured. Europeans make fun of them sometimes.
"On Sunday we went to a Christian church where the Starratts attend regularly and where Rose has a Sunday school class. It was very nice—met so many pleasant people, and the pastor was quite cordial. That afternoon we tried to get on one of those double-decked busses, but they were all full and people waiting by the hundreds to get on for a ride in the afternoon sunshine, so we went to the train on the subway.

"Belle and Margaret Ingels live just back of Columbia University. We wanted to have them with us but they were on duty. Belle is working in the Y. M. C. A. office and Margaret is an electrical engineer.

"I forgot to tell you we walked home from church through Riverside
Park, along the Hudson and saw a Naval Training School and a hospital ship. New York is fine, well kept and so much easier to get about in than any of the cities I have visited.
The people are quite nice looking,
good looking, and well dressed and are so quietly pleasant. That's the culture of the East.

"The most interesting occurrence
of last week was the clinic of the Psychopathic department, with a lecture on 'The War Neurosis,' illustrated with three cases. Quite a number of these are cured—many
are the result of shell-shock.

"I talk Dante and Virgil and Italian opera to the Italian bricklayer,
the value of studying a dead language (Latin) to the Slovenian (Austrian) coal digger, agriculture
with a Bohemian farmer from Minnesota, and on the side we have begun a lecture course on Monday
evenings under a Columbia University man, on the 'Psychology of War.'
We hand in weekly reports of each boy. On their cards they are given credit and upon discharge may take their certificate and enter the Federal Vocational School anywhere in the United States.

"I will be home about the first of July, as the work will be over about that time. The flowers I sent are the trailing Arbutus, about which there is a legend. I took my boys a basketful and let them pick them
out. Today is Sunday, and raining.
If it clears up a party of us are going motoring around Long Island.
"Most Sincerely, Your Sister,
"NELL WHALEY."

PRESIDENT OF BRAZIL GOES TO VISIT WILSON.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—President-elect Pessoa of Brazil and his party, who were on their way to the United States from Portugal on board the French cruiser Jeanne d'Arc, were transferred to the American army transport Imperator 1,200 miles at sea Tuesday, after the cruiser's engines had been disabled.

Dispatches to the Navy department said the transfer was made in small boats without incident, and the Im-perator arrived at New York Thursday morning. The Jeanne d'Arc became disabled soon after she had passed the Imperator, from Brest to New York, with American troops, and a wireless message recalled the big transport. Later the transport Mon-talia, bound from New York for France, arrived and took the cruiser
in tow for the Azores, where repairs
will be made.

After boarding the Imperator, Dr.
Pessoa sent this wireless message to President Wilson at Paris:

"Owing to a breakdown of the engine of the French cruiser on which I was traveling to New York, she was unable to proceed on her voyage. The U. S. S. Imperator immediately came to our assistance and I am now on the way to the United States aboard her. I take great pleasure in thanking you for this generous example of American hospitality which, not content with keeping
within the bounds of its great territory, now extends itself to the very ocean."

KENTUCKY BOYS WEARING MEDALS.

A very large number of boys in Kentucky are proudly wearing the Bronze Service Medal given to them by the U. S. Boys' Working Reserve, a branch of the Department of Labor. This medal is given to every boy enrolled in the Reserve in recognition of 36 days' faithful service on the farm helping to raise food to feed the starving people of Europe. When the Reserve boy completes 55 days of service he receives a medal larger in size and for 75 days' work he receives the Honorable Service Bar.

All boys in Kentucky from 16 to 21 years of age are eligible to enroll in the Reserve for farm labor. Boys who live and work on the farms are as welcome as the boys in cities and towns who go to the farms. A large number of farm boys in Kentucky are already enrolled and many are going out to the farms from the cities and towns for vacation work on the farms.

Acting upon the request of the Department of Labor at Washington, the enrollment of boys in the Reserve will continue until the late harvest in order that the nation's record crops may be fully gathered.

Any boy desiring to know more about how these medals may be won can write George E. Stevens, Executive State Director, 345 Y. M. C. A. Building, Louisville, Ky.

WORK THAT TELLS

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Paris.

To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate its work. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Paris. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now give confirmed testimony—declare the results have lasted. How can any Paris sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Mrs. J. T. Martin, 1024 Main St., Paris, says: "Kidney trouble came on from a fall and the results were very severe, causing me more suffering than the fall itself. No one can ever know what I went through at that time for I suffered awfully. My back ached and pained until I thought it would break in two. Sharp twinges shot through my kidneys and if anyone had hit me in the back with a heavy axe it couldn't have hurt me worse. In one week after using Doan's Kidney Pills, I felt like a different woman for they fixed me up in fine shape." (Statement given February 17, 1908.)

On November 9, 1916, Mrs. Martin said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have made a cure for me and it has been permanent."

Price 6c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

THE RED CROSS IN ENGLAND.

(By Mrs. B. S. Norcross.) We, twenty-five of the "Barrow Unit," were stationed at Camp 40, Knotty Ash, Liverpool, England. We termed ourselves unlucky to be put off in England, when we did so much want to go to France. Uncle Sam left us in England so we decided we would make the best of it.

First thing we saw on landing was a Red Cross car waiting to carry us to camp. On reaching camp, we began to wonder where we could get our money changed—for you know it is pounds, shillings, six-pence and half-pennies in England, instead of dollars, quarters and cents. Anyway we were told to go to the Red Cross.

Next morning we were put on duty. Then there were these questions to be answered: "Where can we get pajama suits, socks, sweaters, underwear, razors, toothpaste and brushes and the many other things that the patients needed. Answer: From the Red Cross. Fruit, candy, and cigarettes were distributed to all the patients, twice and sometimes three times a week. Who furnished them? The Red Cross.

Our hospital had a conveniently furnished recreation room for the personnel and convalescent patients, where they spent their evenings reading, writing or anyway they liked. Who built and furnished these? The Red Cross.

If the boys needed money they went to the Red Cross.

Each ward was furnished with a Victrola and records, books, stationery, pens, pencils and daily papers, including The Stars and Stripes. Who furnished all these? The Red Cross. The Red Cross was really the boys' best friend.

You people know what happened during the flu epidemic in this country. In England it was perfectly awful! When the first large convoy of flu patients landed at Liverpool, our hospital was already filled. Yet we had to make room for our boys. Everybody got busy. We turned the casual camp, which contained at least 30 or 40 barracks into a hospital. These barracks were supplied with hospital equipment sufficient to handle the emergency. While patients were waiting to be admitted, doctors, nurses and corps men worked day and night, doing what we could for those poor unfortunate boys. When it came time for us to go off duty, we were relieved by a night nurse, but we knew she had important medication sufficient to take all her time—same as we had during the day; so instead of going off duty, many time, we lingered until long past midnight to answer the call of the poor dying boys who would plead for someone to take a message and send to mother, father, or perhaps wife and children. Others wanted water and would beg for someone to stay close by for they realized they were dying. To me, this was even worse than seeing the boys give their lives on the battlefield. Why, sometimes we would lose six or eight patients in one night. Their condition on admission at the hospital was such that stimulation seemed to be the only help. Never again do I expect to see so sad a sight as this and you people must have been most as unfortunate as we.

Pardon me if I seem to be leaving my subject, but remember, it was the "Red Cross" which equipped and sent the nurses.

It was our dear boys who did the fighting, giving their lives, many of them; but next to the boys in khaki, I think came the Red Cross.

Just to give you an idea as to how much the boys of Camp 40 loved the Red Cross and appreciated what they did for them, I'll give you their Red Cross yell:

Who won the war, the French?—Who won the war, the British?—No!

Who won the war, the Yanks?—They helped!

Now, Boss, who won the war?—The Red Cross!

You people at home may rest assured that the boys all knew who gave their services, time and money to make the Red Cross a success. You who have done these things surely did your bit toward winning the war.

JUDGE DENIES CHARTER TO NO-TOBACCO CORPORATION

PITTSBURG, June 24.—Plans for a nation-wide anti-tobacco campaign intended to follow the actual promulgation of prohibition were given a setback here Thursday when Judge James McF. Carpenter handed down an opinion in the Common Pleas Court refusing to grant a charter to the No-tobacco Corporation. The petition was signed by prominent church people and ministers of this and other cities of the country.

In his opinion Judge Carpenter said the law creating organizations with judicial sanction in the form of granting charters was not intended to provide for incorporation and propagation of theories as to effects and consequences of personal habits and immemorial customs, especially if not "contra bono mores" and concerning consequences of which laymen of equal intelligence differ radically with doctors.

Judge Carpenter declared the organization was political in its aims, as its petition stated its object was "to obtain by law prohibition of culture, sale and use of tobacco."

STATE TEXT BOOK COMMISSION TO MEET IN FRANKFORT.

FRANKFORT, KY., June 24.—The State Text Book Commission will meet in Frankfort in response to a call issued by Gov. Black to consider an entirely new adoption of schoolbooks for use in schools of the State for the next five years, as directed by the Court of Appeals in an opinion upholding the Franklin Circuit Court in the action brought by Prof. E. B. Weathers, Jr. Although Gov. Black declines to say what his plans are concerning the commission it is believed at the State capital that he will leave the door open for members of the commission to resign if they should be inclined to do so.

She will accompany Mrs. Varden. (Other Personals on Page 5)

From Day to Day.

Don't imagine that the doctor can cure your ills when it depends on you to care for yourself. It is not fair to the doctor to ask him to do the whole thing with a few little pills. What you do from day to day has more to do with your health than any medicine can possibly have, and plenty of substantial food, sleep and air constitute a daily dose that should never be overlooked.

Couldn't "Unthink."

Elizabeth had broken her precious dolly and was inconsolable. The entire family united in trying to cheer her up and make her forget her sorrow. One day soon after the catastrophe her mother found her in tears and, putting her arms about her, said: "Tell mother what's the trouble, dear." To which the little one made answer: "Oh, mother, I can't unthink about my dolly."

How Do You Find It, Neighbor?

Said the facetious feller, "The hardest thing after you make a payment down is to keep the others up."

Some people fall into a fortune with such violence that they go right through it.

Even in the warmest weather, the girls' summer furs are cold facts.

WAR DEVELOPED FOREIGN BORN

They Have Learned About American Principles and Are Now Learning the Value of Saving.

During the war ordeal millions of men, women and children born abroad have stood staunchly by the United States. Their hearts, their service and their dollars have proved their loyalty again and again. While sentimental sympathy attached them to the soil of their nativity, they clung to the land where they had found the liberty of their dreams.

Another duty and opportunity has come to these foreign-born loyal millions to help uphold the government of freedom. The War Savings Stamp Campaign this year affords a special chance for reiteration of patriotic sacrifice and service.

The participation of the foreign-born in the nation wide purchase of these stamps has a special significance. Such purchase is a particular indication to loyal help as contrasted with the buying of stamps by those native to the United States. Naturally the native should aid his government, but the same aid by the foreign-born means a double devotion to the Stars and Stripes in that it requires the alien to tear asunder the ties that bind him to his birth soil.

The son of alien soil, through the strength of every War Savings Stamp purchase, becomes just as much an integral part of the national fabric as the son of seven generations of American birth. He is woven into the national texture so closely and strongly, that the completed product of the patriot loom reveals not where the native strand begins and the foreign ends. Every War Savings Stamp in the progress of purchase is another movement of the governmental shuttle in the hands of the Treasury weaver. Every alien born who buys his stamp is of equal fabric strength to his native born brother.

The cost of the new stamp ranges from $4.12 in January to $4.23 in December. The Government promises to pay $5.00 for each stamp on January 1, 1924. This represents a return of four per cent. interest on the cost compounded quarterly.

Governmental expenses and governmental obligation mount high even though the clash of arms has ceased abroad. There is a tremendous outlay necessary for the transportation of hundreds of thousands of troops from France to the United States. There are social and economic necessities at home requiring immense sums. The sum to be raised from the New War Stamp issue will be applied toward meeting all these necessities. The foreign born purchasers of stamps will give timely and efficient aid to the Government of their adopted land.

GEN. ROGER WILLIAMS ENDORSES SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN.

General Roger D. Williams, for many years commander of the Kentucky National Guard, and for a time in charge of Camp Shelby, Miss., during the war with Germany, who went abroad in connection with the work of the Red Cross, had ample opportunity to observe the work of the Salvation Army among the American troops on the various fighting fronts, where he was himself engaged after he had been retired from the army. Though declared physically unfit for field work and retired from the army, General Williams was not content to remain in America, but determined to have a part in the world war. The National Red Cross, reading of his retirement by the army board, sent him overseas in its employ, and he made good from the start, as indeed he would have made good as a commander, the experts of the War Department to the contrary notwithstanding.

General Williams, however, is a loyal soldier, and he accepted without murmur the decision of the retiring board. When asked to serve in an official capacity recently in connection with the Home Service Campaign of the Salvation Army in Kentucky, General Williams declined on the ground that he was still connected with the Red Cross and home on leave, but he added this comment on the Army's work at the front:

"I am pleased to say that while at the front in France and Germany, I had ample opportunity to see and judge of the most excellent work of your organization. It was fully appreciated by all, especially the boys in the trenches, who were unanimous in their praise of the assistance and benefit it was to all.

"Very Sincerely,
"ROGER D. WILLIAMS."

NOW, TOBACCO USERS, GET READY FOR SLAUGHTER.

The following solemn warning was recently sounded by the Connorsville correspondent of the Cynthiana Log Cabin. He intends to put tobacco out of business. So get ready, boys, the day of reckoning is coming: "And now that whisky goes out and prohibition takes its place on July 1st, we never intend to cease our earnest efforts until tobacco growing, chewing and cigarette smoking will be cut out of this U. S."

Also there are some Johnny boys in this town who never will be satisfied till they own an automobile that makes as much noise as a fire engine en route.

INTERESTING OIL NOTES

The Paris Oil & Gas Company has just made its first distribution to its stockholders in the shape of a 50 per cent dividend.

Operating the Poplar Thicket lease, Lee county, the Co-operating Land & Development Company is preparing to sink well No. 3.

The Parboken Oil Company's well No. 3, on the Kincaid lease in Lee county is promising and the drilling rig is now working on well No. 5.

On the Tyree lease in Lee county, the Co-operating Land & Development Company of Paris and Lexington, has completed its initial well, which is credited with 40 barrels.

The McCombs Producing & Refining Company is installing a $20,000 compression plant at Campton, which will be used in pumping the 52 wells owned and operated by the company in Wolfe county.

The Bourbon Oil & Development Company report the breaking of a wrist pin in the drilling outfit in Elliott county, which has delayed work on a well now down to a depth of 970 feet, and which, when drilled in is expected to be a gusher.

The Frank Calhoun Company, drilling on the Rice Crooks farm near North Middletown, at a depth of 1,100 feet, struck a vein of mineral water, that in taste is very similar to the famous Blue Lick. A sample was sent to Lexington to the Experiment Station for analysis.

The Little Banjo Oil Company, of Paris, has let contracts to drill three wells on its holdings in Elliott county. A well was recently brought in and shot by this company on its holdings, which pumped 60 barrels for two weeks, but was forced to shut down because of lack of pipe line facilities.

The Associated Oil Royalties Corporation made two promising investments lately when they secured a one-sixteenth royalty in the Cherry lease in Allen county and a 3-33 interest in the Motley-Saxon tract of 23 acres in the same county. There are fifteen pumping wells on the above tracts.

The Lane Oil Company, of Paris, is reported to have purchased a substantial interest in 230 acres in Allen county. There are 14 producing wells on this lease. Two more machines have been started to work and the company expects to drill at least twenty more wells during the present season.

Regardless of unfavorable labor and health conditions in the Eastern Kentucky oil fields and of the intense heat that has been experienced during the past few weeks, activities in both sections of the oil districts of Kentucky are on the increase. There was an increase of almost 7,000 barrels in runs reported by the Cumberland Pipe Line Company during the past week, which, with the reported amount of contracts for drilling and new leases that have been acquired, indicates that the next few weeks will see larger productions in runs and in competition than has been the case in the past. Representatives of Oklahoma companies are becoming interested in Kentucky pools, and a number of Kentucky companies have sent scouts and representatives to Oklahoma and Texas to make a study of the conditions in those States in regard to the oil prospects and to obtain leases.

KENTUCKY DAY OBSERVED AT METHODIST CENTENARY.

Recognition of the fact that Methodist missionary achievements had their beginning in the Buckeye State in 1819 was made by several speakers at the Ohio and Kentucky Day celebration at the Methodist Centenary, at Columbus, O.

Former Governor James E. Campbell was a speaker for the State, in the absence of Governor James M. Cox, detained at his home, Dayton, by illness. Mr. Campbell, in eloquent terms, insisted that Ohio was the promised land for the early settlers and that for a hundred years the history of the State has been interwoven with the history of Methodism. Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols, of the Ohio Supreme Court, praised the Methodist church for the part it has taken in the cause of good government.

Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, in charge of the Centenary campaign in Ohio and Indiana and part of Kentucky, told of the generous way in which the people of that area had gone over the top in the great missionary drive.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Mrs. John Woodford entertained in honor of her father's 77th birthday anniversary Saturday at her home near Paris, with an elaborate dining.

If any of the pessimists who grumble and moan that the "good old days are over in Kentucky" had been present at the Woodford home on Saturday, June 21, they would have had their last fear put to flight and been obligated to acknowledge that the hospitality that once made us famous, still lives and flourishes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Woodford have that peculiar grace that seems to be the birthright of true-born Kentuckians, of making their guests so sincerely welcome as to make an invitation to their attractive home eagerly sought for by their friends.

Saturday, June 21st was the occasion of the gathering together of one of the representative families of this section in response to an invitation from Mrs. Woodford. It was the 77th anniversary of the birth of her father, Mr. John VanMeter, of Boyle county, and the VanMeter clan gathered from far and near to do him honor.

Forty guests sat around the long hospitable table that fairly groaned beneath its burden of good things, and just for a minute the talk and laughter was stilled, as in a few well-chosen words Mr. VanMeter gave thanks to the Giver of every good and perfect gift. As the words fell from his lips, every heart present was saying "A hoary head is a crown of glory it is found in the way of righteousness."

The guests lingered until the shadows began to lengthen and only the long drive that lay before many of them, brought them to the parting of the ways. Mr. VanMeter looked like a patriarch of old, as he stood among his kinspeople and listened to their happy wishes for many returns of the day and the love and affection they so freely expressed. The only child of the Woodford home bears his grandfather's name in full, and as the two stood side by side a line from Lowell most fittingly came to mind, "If youth be a defect, it is one we outgrow only too soon."

Mr. VanMeter's two daughters, Miss Anna and Miss Sue VanMeter, accompanied him to Bourbon. The guests present were:

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. VanMeter, Mrs. Emma V. Hamilton, Mrs. William Pettit, Mr. William Pettit, Mr. Harold Pettit, Mrs. Scott VanMeter, Mrs. Fannie V. Savage, Mr. L. M. VanMeter, Dr. and Mrs. B. F. VanMeter, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon VanMeter, Mr. Joe VanMeter, Misses Mabel and Martha VanMeter, all of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Prewitt VanMeter, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. VanMeter, Mr. Emmanuel VanMeter, Mr. Willis VanMeter, Mrs. Nelson VanMeter, Misses Elizabeth VanMeter, Anna Coleman VanMeter, Amelia Clay VanMeter, Mr. and Mrs. Will Duty, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gay, of Winchester; Mr. J. M. VanMeter, Misses Anna and Sue VanMeter, of Danville; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Steenbergen and Miss Frances Steenbergen, of Paris.

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION TO MEET AT LEXINGTON.

Between 150 and 200 lawyers from all parts of the State are expected to attend the eighteenth annual session of the Kentucky State Bar Association, which will be held in Lexington, Thursday and Friday, June 26 and 27. The sessions will be held in the Circuit Court room.

Attractive features have been arranged by the Fayette Bar Association for the entertainment of the visiting lawyers and their wives. Luncheon will be served them at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday, and Friday lunch will be served at the Country Club, after which opportunities will be afforded for dancing, golf and motor trips to points of interest about Lexington. A reception will be given to Henry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, Va., who will make the annual address, and the visiting lawyers and their guests at the Phoenix Hotel immediately following the evening session Thursday.

The annual banquet will be held at the Phoenix Hotel at 7:30 o'clock Friday, June 27. Judge William Rogers Clay, Commissioner of Appeals at Frankfort, formerly of Lexington, will be the toastmaster.

There will be a large attendance by members of the Bourbon county bar. Judge Denis Dundon, of Paris, is one of the vice-presidents of the Association.

TAKE IT DOWN!

When an old building becomes tumbled-down-and-out and unsightly, and a general eye-sore, there is an instant demand for its removal. The big billboard in the court house yard is in the same class. Having served the purpose for which it was erected, is there any longer real need for retaining it. It is not the least bit ornamental, and with its frayed and torn posters, does not in the least add to the attractiveness of the building or the lawn. Why shouldn't it be removed?

IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

Gunner's Mate Edwin B. Patin, in charge of the naval recruiting station at Lexington, announces that Asa B. Webb, of Paris, has enlisted in the service. Webb will leave for Louisville to-day for final examination.

Mr. Heshel Humble, who has been in the service overseas for several months returned to Paris, Sunday night, having received his final discharge papers. He was first in the forestry branch of the service, and was later transferred to the regular service and sent overseas. He is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Drake Thompson, on Duncan avenue.

Mr. Henry C. Curtis, of Paris, received a message Saturday from his son, Lieut. Earl Curtis, stating that he had arrived in Ft. Worth, Texas, for a short visit and would come to Paris soon. Lieut. Curtis was in the service on the Mexican-Texan border for two years and later in France, where he won promotion.

Dr. B. F. Orr and family, of Stoner avenue, received a radio message yesterday from Capt. (Dr.) Jas. A. Orr, stating that he would land at Charleston, S. C., in a few hours and would proceed to a demobilization camp, where he would be mustered out of the service. Capt. Orr was in the Medical Corps of the Army overseas.

Private James Horton, of Paris, who volunteered in the service at the beginning of the world-war, has returned home on an indefinite furlough. He came from the camp at Quantico, Va., where he was sent after arriving from overseas. Horton was a member of the Marines, but did not get to see any active fighting.

Mr. W. B. Tinsley, formerly connected with the Paris Gas & Electric Co., spent several days here as guest of friends. Mr. Tinsley had been in the service overseas, and received his final discharge about five weeks ago. After a visit to his old home in Salem, Virginia, and spending some time at other points in the East and West visiting he came to Paris for a short stay. Mr. Tinsley has resumed his old position as traveling man for a large Western manufacturing concern, having headquarters in St. Louis.

Among the members of the colored contingent recently returned from overseas, were the following from the North Middletown vicinity: Charlie Ed Mason, Andrew Finch, Chester Finch, Chas. Butler, Lucien Mack and Essie Stevenson. All had been in the service in France, but were not close to the firing line, and did not participate in any of the battles. Mason received a promotion to First Sergeant and Butler was made Supply Sergeant. They said they were glad to get back to old Kentucky, but that if they were needed again they would gladly return.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN IS CONDUCTED THIS WEEK.

The work of raising money in Kentucky for the House Service Fund of the Salvation Army of America, by means of which the Army will continue its work among the poor, outcast, fallen and abandoned in the big cities and relieve the wants of suffering children due to poverty for which they have been in no way to blame, is now on in Kentucky. It is a movement which ought to be aided by every man, woman and child, who believes in work for humanity. "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick," said the lowly Nazarene, and this doctrine the Salvation Army has been practicing ever since the founding of the movement by General William Booth in the slums of London. Evangeline Booth is at the head of the Salvation Army in America. With the endorsement of General John J. Pershing, Secretary of War Baker, President Wilson, General Foch and General Joffre of the work done among the soldiers of Europe, her organization is going before America for funds for the work at home, since the work among the soldiers has been practically completed. Let us all give to this worthy enterprise as we are able and as we gave to every other drive for such work since the war began. No money we have ever given will bring more beneficial results than this given to the Salvation Army.

TO TABOO "KID CHAUFFEURS"

Notices have been served by the authorities on a number of Paris people owning automobiles who have been employing boys under eighteen years of age as chauffeurs that the practice must be stopped at once. It has developed during the past few days that in several cases boys as young as sixteen have been regularly employed in driving cars.

Near Georgetown, Saturday, Everett Johnson, 16 years old, son of Garfield Johnson, while driving his father's automobile on the Paris pike, struck a wagon belonging to and driven by D. J. King, of Montgomery county, with such force that it was demolished. Mr. King escaped with several bruises.

LAST SATURDAY LONGEST DAY OF THE YEAR.

Between Daylight Saving and Old Sol, the enthusiastic amateur gardener, had the greatest time of his life Saturday. Officially he had fourteen hours and forty-nine minutes in which he might toil with rake and hoe and patent weeder that won't weed. The sun rose at 5:20 o'clock, summer time, and set at 8:20. But with the aid of the zodiacal lights before sunrise and after sunset, the "next-to-nature boy" could get in a couple hours' more hard work. Saturday was the summer solstice, June 21, the worst time in the year to get a good night's rest. For when the sun insists on staying up half the night and then restlessly awakes again when a fellow has just begun to sleep, it's a dirty trick. Old Sol was at his farthest point north of the equator. But he passed the solstitial point—the sign Cancer in the zodiac—Saturday and from now on there will be a minute or two knocked off the length of every day until the sun passes Capricorn on the south.

AIR COMPRESSOR GETS TOO MUCH PRESSURE—BLOOEY!

With a sound that resembled the explosion of about a dozen hand grenades or a Big Bertha during the recent world war a big air compressor at the Chevrolet Garage of Claude Redmon & Co., adjoining the Paris fire department let go yesterday, wrecking the tank, and spreading the air all over the surrounding atmosphere.

The tank was being pumped up by one of the employees of the place and it seemed he got too enthusiastic on his job, with the result that the pressure climed and climed until the poor tank couldn't stand so much squeezing, and gave up. No one hurt. The tank is used for filling deflated automobile tires, and is generally filled to a high pressure.

BOURBON FARMING CONDITIONS.

Had the rains not come, yesterday would have seen all the wheat fields in this county scenes of activity. The grain is now ready for the mowers and shockers. Some farmers began cutting their fields last Friday and Saturday. It has been stated that there are practically thirty thousand acres of the golden grain in this county, which will make an average yield of sixteen to eighteen bushels of wheat to the acre. The quality of the grain is said by competent judges to be excellent. One hundred farmers in the county will operate their self-binders with tractors this year, instead of horse-power of the old days, thus showing how the march of progress has invaded even the farm.

Farmers have been for the most part very busy the past week fighting weeds, the noxious growth springing up very rapidly as a result of the recent heavy rains and hot sunshine. Corn plowing and tobacco plowing and hoeing have been very necessary in order to get rid of the pests. Both the corn and the tobacco crops have been showing vigorous growth under the stimulus of the rains and the sunshine. Some parts of the county have not been as well-favored in the way of moisture as have others. But, taken as a whole, the conditions on the farm are very good.

JUDGE ASSESSES HEAVY FINES.

In the County Court a number of residents of the colored suburb of Paris, Claysville, who have been indulging in a series of personal encounters, were given heavy fines by County Judge George Batterson. Maggie Freeman, alias Maggie Small, was assessed $10 and costs, Wm. Robinson $25 and costs and Walter Johnson and Joe Coleman $5 and costs each. Johnson paid his fine and was released, while the others were sent to the care of Jailer Tommie Taul to remain in his care for several days, unless some good Samaritan should come to their relief.

STILL DRIVING.

The campaign for the purpose of raising the sum of $1,000 as Bourbon county's quota in the Boy Scout campaign, is still on. Up to yesterday the sum of $600 had been secured, and the prospects were good for securing the remainder. House to house committees will probably have the work in hand this week, and push it to a successful conclusion.

CHEMICAL COMPANY PRESIDENT TESTIFIES

C. B. Hawes, Louisville Business Man, Gladly Prises Trutona.

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 23.—Business men, professional men, laborers and artisans, as well as hundreds of women, are to-day indorsing Trutona. C. B. Hawes, 1415 Winter avenue, president and general manager of the Hawes Chemical Company, has the following praise:

"It gives me pleasure to indorse Trutona. I found it excellent for treatment of nervous indigestion. For some time I had great difficulty to sleep at night. I was subject to frequent attacks of nausea early in the morning. This made me feel miserable.

"I noticed a considerable improvement in my entire system after taking Trutona a few days. I feel much better and stronger now and have more 'pep.' I also sleep well and the nausea and nervousness have been greatly relieved. Trutona is all right. I gladly recommend it."

Trutona is an excellent system tonic, appetizer, laxative and strength builder. Thousands of Kentuckians have testified to its merits as a treatment in cases of stomach, liver and bowels.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Paris at G. S. Varden & Son's. (adv)

THE LOCAL PAPER A VALUABLE ASSET.

The local weekly or daily papers deserve better support than they receive in many communities. Some have not succeeded because of the policy or lack of policy of their management, but our experience convinces us that the great majority of the papers devoted to the interests of the home community deserve hearty support. The metropolitan daily will bring to one's doorstep the news of the world seen through the spectacles of the city editor, but it is the editor who lives in the heart of the community who is able to reflect the sentiment of the local group. He alone is the true interpreter of events as they affect the small home town and the country immediately surrounding it. He alone is able to put real sparkle into the account of the wedding of boys and girls whom he has seen grow up. He alone is able to put the throb of real feeling into the obituaries of the men and women among whom he has spent his life and with whom he has worked for the improvement and advancement of the old home town. These local papers deserve better than they generally get. During the war they have had hard sledding—many of them—and now they have a perfect right to come to the citizens of their locality asking real business support. Give it to them. If the local paper has the proper kind of encouragement it can do more for the welfare of the town and the countryside than any other factor. Support means more than merely subscribing. Send in the news. Patronize the advertising columns. Pretty soon you will find yourself becoming more interested in the community than you ever were before and you will find that it is a good place to stay rather than something to try to get away from. Help the local paper and it will help you.

FRENCH ERROR WITH GUNS

(Tampa Tribune.) It is the opinion of the Tribune that one of the most harrowing after-the-war disclosures is Maj. Gen. Alexander's story that many of the casualties in the 77th Division were caused by French artillery fire.

The explanation discloses one of those strange caprices of generalship which are part of the history of all wars. The French assumed that men of the 77th occupying a ravine had surrendered. In spite of the American officers' protest they shelled the ravine. Their assumption was reached without taking into account the indomitable courage and will of the American soldiers. They had not surrendered nor did they surrender. However, they paid a stiff price in casualties for the misconceived military intelligence that directed the fire.

War itself is a succession of regrets. Nor is such blundering as the 77th's commander records uncommon. It happened at second Bull Run, at Shiloh, in the Wilderness and on the Po River.

The war just closed was fought on such a grand scale, with such high-powered arms, that the wonder is there were not more costly errors. The fact that there were so few is final testimony to the accuracy of modern artillery fire and indisputable evidence of the excellence of word transmission—wireless and telephonic—in battle.

WHEAT FIELDS SUFFER HUGE LOSS FROM RAVAGE WORMS

Wheat and grain fields in Indiana are being burned by farmers in an effort to stop the ravages of the "army worm," which has appeared in great numbers in various sections of the State, especially the east-central portion. Gangs of 50 to 100 men have been working together for several days in some places, but their efforts to poison and stop the worm, it is said, have had little result. As a last resort fire is being used in fields the worms have entered. No estimate of the loss is available, but near Muncie alone it is said to exceed $50,000.

ISLAM ART NOT PERMANENT

Most Beautiful Masterpieces Are Crumbling Because Constructed of Perishable Material.

The two capital cities of central Asia have left mosques and tombs which for their grace, decorations and grandeur, are precious documents of the culture of a splendid epoch, Asia Magazine states. The intricate carving of the gates and the enameled tiles, azure, purple and saffron, heap up a prodigality of design, all the more remarkable because, according to the Islam law, the representation of living nature in any form is forbidden. This restriction developed a wreath of extremely beautiful geometrical and conventional patterns, and to the use of texts of the koran in the highly decorative Arabic characters.

Unfortunately, the Moslems did not construct for permanency, in marble, like the Greeks. The enamel tiles of the facades are rapidly falling away, the walls of clay are disintegrating and the broken roofs furnish asylums for birds. The natives, indolent and fatalist, shrug their shoulders and consider it a part of the natural order of things for monuments to crumble and pass away. Soon the jade and turquoise pages in the history of central Asia will be obliterated more completely than the records of Babylon and Pompeii.

TRUTH ABOVE ALL THINGS

Incomparably the Best Business Asset That a Man or Firm Can Possess.

A successful merchant, when asked the question, "What is the best asset of a business house?" said: "The best asset a business house can possess is a reputation for absolute truth."

Such was the exhortation lately given to a young man who has yet to arrive, by a veteran who, in well-earned retirement, can comfort himself with the reflection that he has been one of the most successful business men of the age.

To the cynic advice of this quality may seem, perhaps, to call up shades of George Washington at the period when "he couldn't tell a lie." But men of sense long ago have realized that, even should they brush the question of morals aside and be content to argue the matter from its lowest and most cynical standpoint, the truth-telling policy still remains the best; in fact, the only possible working policy for the man who aims at any definite and lasting success in business.

The truth-teller is, in short, the man who stands to make good in the business field; he is the only man who counts to any really vital extent.

"First Aid" Book.

Attach to the medicine closet, with a string and pencil a small alphabetically arranged notebook.

Under the letter P, for instance, write the antidotes for the different poisons, for, although one may know them, when the baby swallows the wrong tablet knowledge is apt to desert one, and by the time the doctor arrives upon the scene it may be too late.

Under F writes "Fainting Spells" and what to do. "Cuts and Bruises" list under their proper letter and "Sunstroke," "Burns," and so on, through the list of accidents and sudden illnesses. All this may be taken from a regular first aid book, but added to this may be remedies for sickness to which one's special family is subject.

From year to year one forgets what it was that proved so effective in that case of quincy, but can easily refer to it in this manner.

Being arranged alphabetically, it is the work of but a moment to find the desired information.

Doses of Medicine for Dogs.

Wood, being a vegetable structure, is liable to decay. But if properly "doped" with some preservation chemical it may be rendered almost decay proof—which, when the matter is brought down to dots, means proof against devouring insects and destructive fungi.

Cresote is one of the chemicals commonly used for this purpose. But, whether this or another, the most up-to-date method adopted is to saturate logs with the preservation stuff by pumping the latter into their intimate structure.

The preservative, under pressure, is forced into the pores and interstices of the logs through a rubber pipe to which is attached a contrivance that shows on a dial the exact amount of pressure used.

Gave Welcome to Lafayette.

On the Waccamaw river, in South Carolina, far back on a commanding eminence, with acres of rice land and pine forests stretching away on every hand, stands a notable relic of colonial and revolutionary days—"Prospect Hill," the venerable home of Benjamin Huger (pronounced U-gee), an American patriot of French-Huguenot ancestry.

It was here that the Marquis de Lafayette spent his first night in America, in 1777, landing on North Island at the mouth of Winyaw bay. He was met by the owner of "Prospect Hill," and was conveyed in a rowboat propelled by negro oarsmen in livery to his destination, where a grand reception was given in his honor.

The mansion was brilliantly lighted and adorned with flags, and noted guests from the country around were gathered to welcome the distinguished son of France.

CONTINUE TO MAKE SOME WAR-LIKE PREPARATIONS.

LONDON, ENG., June 24.—Morning newspapers feature British naval and other preparations in the event of Germany refusing to sign the treaty of peace and print under big headlines several unofficial reports which are current.

The Grand Fleet again has been placed on a war footing, it is reported, and is ready to sail for German waters.

It also is stated that the divigible R-34 has been diverted from her transatlantic trip, equipped with bombs and machine guns and has been sent or is going to the Baltic, while her companion aircraft, the R-33, similarly equipped, left Wednesday night for a cruise, which includes the Kiel Canal.

A telegram from Copenhagen reports arrival there of a dozen British cruisers and a number of destroyers prepared to enforce the blockade.

BRUSSELS, June 24.—The King and Queen of the Belgians said goodbye to President and Mrs. Wilson, Thursday, after a day of functions and sight-seeing that taxed the energies of every individual in the American party.

The President made three speeches and an extended tour of the battlefields, attended a luncheon and a formal dinner by the King. Had there been any doubt relative to the feeling between Americans and Belgians, it was removed in the Chamber of Deputies when the President was warmly applauded by the members and those gathered in the galleries.

In a simple, straightforward manner he brought them to the realization that America was not dealing with the past; that now is the time for credits, and it proposed to extend them.

The President, in the course of his speech, said he had in mind to suggest to Congress to elevate the legation at Brussels to an Embassy and the post of Minister to Ambassador.

More than once the President, and even Mrs. Wilson, were obliged to bow acknowledgments when references were made to them.

The audience appeared more curious than anything else when the President began to speak, and the first applause was perhaps somewhat perfunctory. But as he proceeded and as he made plain that the Belgians were not regarded as objects of charity, appreciation reached a climax, expressed in warm and hearty applause.

At the conclusion of his address the whole chamber rose and gave the President an ovation. The guests were conducted later through the historic rooms, including the Senate chamber, where the English nurse, Edith Cavell, was tried and sentenced by the Germans.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND PARTY VISIT NOTABLES IN BELGIUM.

ADINKIRKE, BELGIUM, June 24.—President and Mrs. Wilson and their party arrived here from Paris, France, at 8:45 o'clock Wednesday morning.

They were met by King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, and at 8:50 o'clock left by motor for a trip over the Belgian front.

Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President, B. M. Baruch and General W. W. Harts are members of the party.

The trip over the devastated region passed the Yser district and ended at Zeebrugge. From that city a special train took the party to Brussels.

When the train arrived at the Quartier Leopold station, Brussels, a regiment of infantry, with a band, rendered military honors. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson went with the king and queen to the Brussels palace close by passing the American legation. After the usual presentation of court dignitaries, the king and queen accompanied their guests to the Bellevue Palace, which was President Wilson's residence during his stay in the city.

Thursday's programme included a morning visit to several devastated industrial districts, luncheon at the American legation and a reception at the American colony. At 2:30 o'clock there was a reception for Mr. Wilson in the House of Parliament, where addresses were made.

Mr. Wilson's speech was translated into French by Brand Whitlock, the American minister. From the Parliament building, the party returned to the royal palace, where Mr. Wilson received the diplomatic corps. Then followed visits to Louvain and Nijmegen, and the presentation of Cardinal Mercier. At 6 o'clock there was a reception in the Brussels city hall, followed by a gala dinner at the Royal palace. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson returned to Paris on Friday morning.

ARMY WORMS DEVASTATE INDIANA FARM CROPS.

ANDERSON, IND., June 24.—Army worms destroyed or damaged 10,000 acres of grain in Madison County, H. S. Agster, county agricultural agent, said recently. The loss, he said, will aggregate $250,000.

Where rye and timothy fields were attacked, the destruction was practically complete. Wheat is showing some effects of the invasion and late corn is being ruined on many farms. Vegetables, except beans, fall rapidly before the worms.

Starting in the black soil along streams, the worms have carried their attack into every part of the county. Farmers and townspeople are digging trenches around infested fields and filling with crude oil. Spraying crude oil was found to be insufficient.

It is thought the attack will have subsided by the middle of next week, but Agster said it may continue to July 1.

Seek to Retain Youthfulness.

As I approve a youth that has something of the old man in him, so I am no less pleased with an old man that has something of the youth. He that follows this rule may be old in body, but never can be so in mind.—Cicero.

Two souls with but a single thought may merely demonstrate that misery loves company.

LEGION FILES ITS ARTICLES

State Veterans' Body Receives Charter; Movement Is Formally Launched

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—(Special)—

With the filing in this city of Articles of Incorporation of The American Legion of Kentucky, the first formal step in the formation of a great association of veterans of the world war in this state was taken. At the same time, Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman, Temporary Commander, following a meeting of the State Executive Committee, announces that Kentucky has received its charter from the National Executive Committee of The American Legion and that the state body is now in a position to receive applications and to issue charters to local posts whenever they are formed. Reports received by State Adjutant D. A. Sachs indicate that applications shortly will be received from various counties in which veterans are anxious to become charter members of the first posts organized. Enlisted men are taking a lead in the organization work.

As the various local organizations, formed at Commander Moorman's behest, are awaiting detailed information before actually forming posts, Judge Moorman announces that a pamphlet, containing the Articles of Incorporation, State Constitution and By-Laws, and organization directions generally, outlining all steps necessary and giving all available information of the Legion, is now being prepared and will be promptly distributed to all district and county organizers and veterans belonging to the temporary organizations, or to any other veterans on request. However, the formation of posts will not necessarily await this information, as any fifteen veterans, eligible to membership under the constitution adopted at the St. Louis National Caucus last month, may band themselves together by signing the approved form and thereby apply to the Temporary Commander for a Charter, to be issued under special authority received yesterday from the National Commander. It is desired, according to leaders here, that sixty per cent of the members be former enlisted men.

Filing of the Articles of Incorporation elicited much favorable comment in this part of the state, as the articles embody the broad statement of policies embraced in the preamble to the National Constitution. One of the striking clauses in this preamble is "to foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent Americanism," a declaration which is backed up by the stirring action taken at St. Louis when alleged I. W. W. representatives narrowly escaped being thrown bodily from the convention hall. Another is "to make right the master of might."

One of the incorporators is a former Brigadier-General, Roger D. Williams, of Lexington. Another is Moses L. Sosnia, of Louisville, who was private and who, at the age of 37 volunteered, went to France and came home with a wound stripe. All branches of both the military and naval services are represented among the incorporators and those associated with them, whether they served at home or abroad. An Advisory Committee for each Congressional District will hereafter be appointed by the Commander.

The State Commander has expressed his purpose to proceed slowly and carefully in its organization, and this announcement reflects the judgment of his advisers and associates.

CATARRAL DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Drug-gists, 75c.

RANK FOR NURSES.

Once more Congress is asked to give relative military rank to all nurses who served in the war. It is essentially the same measure which failed last season. As this seems to be a Congress favorably disposed to feminine claims, there is not much doubt that the bill will pass, since it really amounts to paying compliments without cost.

The nurses deserve their rank as much as physicians and other non-combatants. It may seem to some a petty thing to ask for rank, but that is of the very essence of military life. Stonewall Jackson insisted that love of promotion was at the basis of army efficiency. Certainly the nurses who worked so hard—many of whom died in the service—deserve the baubles as much as men. joice in their uniforms and chevrons. The female mind is said to be especially fond of anything which denotes superiority. PROGRESS IN KENTUCKY

The Louisville Courier-Journal records progress in Kentucky. A recent editorial says: "Approximately 20 per cent of the counties in Kentucky have county engineers who are engineers by training, not by appointment merely. * * * It has not been long since almost 100 per cent of the counties of Kentucky ignored the importance of the engineer's work in building roads."

Numerous Tennessee counties do the same thing, and the state seems to have gone on record as believing that road building is a job for politicians rather than a work for trained engineers. Three highway commissioners have just been selected to spend Tennessee's road money. One of them is said to have had experience as a practical road builder. The other two have political qualifications only. It will be a great thing for the roads, and for the tax-payers, when the idea becomes general that the best men to build roads are the men who have made a study of road-building.

GILBERT URGES RURAL SCHOOL OPENING AUGUST 1.

County School Superintendents are being urged by V. O. Gilbert, Superintendent of Public Instruction, to postpone the opening of the rural schools until August 1. This request is the result of the court knocking out the text book adoption. Gilbert wants the rural schools to wait until the new adoption is made.

County School Superintendent L. D. Stucker, of Franklin county, said books or no books the rural schools of this county would open July 7. Rural school children, he said, have little chance of attending school after bad weather sets in and if the opening of the schools is delayed until August the term would extend into cold weather.

MARIE VAN GASTEL, BELGIAN WAR NURSE.

A thrilling story of the "Invasion of Belgium by the Huns," is that told by Miss Marie Van Gastel at the Chautauqua on the third night. Miss Van Gastel is a beautiful Belgian girl, reared in the lap of luxury, a graduate of the University of Antwerp. She saw the bloody beginning of the great war when she volunteered as a nurse in the Belgian Army, witnessed awful atrocities, and retreated with her wounded when the brave Belgian Army was driven back to the sea. Miss Van Gastel wherever she has spoken in the United States has made a sensation. During the Liberty Loan campaign the big cities went wild over her. She is a wonderful speaker, using perfect English.

DR. E. E. VIOLETTE.

As pastor of the largest church of his denomination in the world, as Director of the Speakers' Bureau of the Tenth Federal District in the Liberty Loan campaigns, as world traveler, as orator, author and lecturer, Dr. E. E.

Violette has gained an enviable reputation. He comes to the Chautauqua this year to give his great lecture, "The Sunset Trail." It is a masterpiece of oratory, rhetoric, and brilliant imagery. Doctor Violette speaks on the fifth night.

BALDY STRANG.

Baldy Strang is called the "American Harry Lauder," and rivals him in ability and popularity. Scotch stories, the favorite Scotch songs, the Highland bagpipes, fun and comedy are his specialty. He is most ably supported by a fine company of entertainers, musicians, and singers; fifth day.

A. F. ADAMS, Harp Soloist.

The Baldy Strang Company of Entertainers includes an Italian Harp Soloist, Mr. A. F. Adams, of which beautiful but difficult instrument he is a recognized master.

The Strang Company has the reputation of being the best four-person combination on Chautauquas. It includes a noted Scotch comedian, singers, musicians and entertainers. They are to be here for the fifth day of Chautauqua.

GET READY NOW FOR A LABOR SHORTAGE.

We venture the prediction that before next year the labor shortage will be so great that business men and farmers will be scrambling for men. To meet this condition labor-saving machinery should be brought into use everywhere and as rapidly as possible. Household work can be greatly lessened by modern equipment. Work on the farm and in the factory still offers an almost limitless field for labor-saving equipment to supplant or supplement muscle power.

Every manufacturer should as quickly as possible so improve his plant, and when necessary so equip it with labor-saving devices of every kind as to be ready to meet the certainty of a great labor shortage.

With an enormous wheat crop assured, at high prices for the farmer; with general improvement in all agricultural conditions; with highway work getting under way on a very large scale; with a marked revival of general construction and but little immigration, the labor situation will soon become acute.

The wise man will be the one who now lays out his entire campaign to utilize to the fullest extent every labor-saving machine available for his factory, his farm or his home.

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED

People are often very much disappointed to find that their physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach are bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.

BUTCHERS BLAME CONSUMERS FOR HIGH PRICE OF MEAT

A statement blaming consumers in part for the high cost of meat has been issued by the Retail Meat Dealers of the United States.

"Two large groups of the population are holding back on their consumption of meat," the statement said. "One group is composed of the persons who in normal times treat themselves to the best quality of pork, beef and mutton. This group is still continuing its reduced consumption of beef, although the necessity for conservation of it no longer exists."

"Another large group is buying those sorts of beef which can be cooked quickly and easily."

"Everybody is neglecting lamb and mutton."

"The people do not seem to realize that beef had dropped materially and is now cheaper than any other meat."

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercises, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.

THE RAILROAD BULLETIN

THE NEWS has received a copy of The Railway Bulletin, issued at Louisville by the United States Railway Administration, as represented by the Louisville & Nashville and other roads entering there. The Bulletin is full of newsy notes concerning the doings in railway circles, and is a very creditable publication. The publication is issued under the supervision of Mr. W. L. Mapother, Federal Manager of Railroads at Louisville. In the initial publication The Bulletin says:

"Here we present to our readers the initial issue of the United States Railway Administration Bulletin, covering the lines within the jurisdiction of Federal Manager Mapother."

"The purpose of this publication is to make up better acquainted among ourselves—to furnish news of a personal or general nature within our own organizations—and to carry information regarding the railroad industry as a whole, including official information from the Central Administration in Washington."

"These columns will not be open to propaganda of any sort. The character of the matter carried in this issue will indicate in a general way that of the issues which are to follow, excepting that we expect to see the news section grow."

"In order to launch the initial issue this month, the Federal Managers were obliged to assemble and prepare their 'copy' within a few days. Consequently it was necessary to use almost entirely information immediately available at headquarters, and the first Bulletin does not carry the wide variety of local items which will be found in future numbers. The purpose is to have some thing of interest from along each line under Mr. Mapother's jurisdiction."

SHELBY COUNTY PEOPLE IN-DORSE NEW ELECTRIC LINE

The Shelbyville Business Men's Association and many farmers in Shelby county are behind the proposed Frankfort-Shelbyville interurban to a man. The line would connect Louisville and Lexington.

At the annual meeting of the Association the members, by a rising vote, adopted resolutions pledging themselves to do everything that may be necessary to assure completion of the new line.

Jeff Riner, Pryor Beard, Warren Vanatta and Ernest Blythe were appointed to lay the promoters' stock plans before the sixty-five landowners whose property fronts on the proposed right of way, and to report ways and means of placing the $35,000 of stock asked of Shelby county.

The Association also indorsed a plan for a farm bureau and plans for a $30,000 hospital suggestion as a memorial to Shelby county soldiers.

DEATHS.

—News was received in this city Friday of the sudden death in Cincinnati of Mr. Samuel Price, aged about sixty-five years, prominent in business circles of the Queen City, and a former resident of Paris, of which city he was a native.

Mr. Price was a brother of Mr. Lee Price, of Paris, and a cousin of Mr. I. L. Price, of the clothing firm of Price & Co. He was a son of the late Mr. John S. Price, who for many years conducted a clothing business in this city. Mr. Price was in Paris about four weeks ago on a visit to relatives. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lillian Mandelson, of Cincinnati, with whom he had made his home in late years. Before his retirement from active business, Mr. Price was engaged in the manufacture of boys' clothing.

MITCHELL.

—After an illness of several weeks, resulting from stomach trouble, Miss Belle Mitchell, aged sixty-nine, died at her home on Pleasant street, about six o'clock Sunday evening.

Miss Mitchell was a daughter of the late Mr. James Mitchell, of Bourbon county, her mother being Mrs. Lucinda Adair Mitchell, a native of this county. She was a sister of Mr. Thos. W. Mitchell, for years a member of the firm of Mitchell, Baker & Smith, of Lexington, and Mrs. Georgia Mitchell Keller, both of whom preceded her to the grave several years ago. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. L. C. Miller, and two nieces, all residing in Cleveland, O. Miss Mitchell was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church.

The funeral will be held at the residence, on Pleasant street at 2:30 o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. Morton, pastor of the Millersburg Presbyterian church. The burial will follow on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery.

The pall-bearers will be Charles B. Mitchell, Wallace B. Mitchell, Dr. J. T. Vansant, Clarence M. Thomas, Charles W. Fithian and Earl Shropshire.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindnesses shown in the illness and death of our beloved son, Charles Smith.

CATHERINE AND HAYWOOD SMITH.

BUT ONE REVENUE DISTRICT IN STATE AFTER FIRST.

There will be but one revenue district in Kentucky soon after July 1, it is asserted by those in a position to know and its headquarters will be in Louisville.

Elwood Hamilton, present collector in the Seventh District, will, it is stated, be the collector. The two Senators from Kentucky and some of the Congressmen have made at least a perfunctory effort to have the State divided into two districts, but it is said that the order for the consolidation of the Kentucky districts into one, with headquarters in the Federal building in Louisville, has already been decided upon.

It is said that Commissioner Roper offered Mr. Hamilton the post of supervisor of collectors' offices at $6,000 a year, which would have left the way open for the appointment of Charles J. Cronan, of Louisville, as revenue collector for Kentucky, but Mr. Hamilton declined the offer, it is said, and will continue in the office of collector at $6,000.

The revenue agent's office in each district will be abolished and a chief field officer under the direction of the collector will have charge of all field work at a salary of $4,500 a year, the amount now paid to collectors.

CENTRAL KENTUCKY MILLERS' ASSOCIATION ELECT OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting of the Central Kentucky Millers' Association held in Lexington, officers were elected as follows: W. B. McKinney, Stanford, President; Nelson Wolcott, Lexington, Vice President; and John D. Allen, Lexington, Secretary-Treasurer. The following were named on the Executive Committee: J. W. Morrison, Lexington, Chairman; B. M. Renick, Paris; M. T. McElowney, Winchester; William Anderson, Danville; Allen Zarling, Richmond.

MATRIMONIAL.

—A marriage license was issued Saturday from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton to Mr. Lewis Brannock, of Georgetown, and Miss Pearl Plummer, of Bourbon county.

SETTLES—WILSON.

When Mr. Sparks Wilson, of North Middletown, went to Omaha, Nebraska, a short time ago, telling the "home folks" that he was going on a visit for a few weeks, he gave no intimation of his intention of bringing back with him a charming bride, a former Bourbon county girl. But there is no limit to the curious capers that Dan Cupid cuts, and Mr. Wilson came home on a surprise visit bringing with him his bride.

While in Omaha, Mr. Wilson married Miss Frances Settle, daughter of the late Mr. Edward Settle, of Paris, who was for many years engaged in the carriage manufacturing business, succeeding Mr. John W. Holliday at the latter's old stand. Mr. Settle and family resided near North Middletown for several years before coming to Paris. The bride is one of the most charming products of the Bluegrass region, and is a young woman of many graces of character. During her residence in Paris she made a host of friends, who wish her the happiest married life that can come to anyone.

STRODE—SUTHERLAND.

—The marriage of Miss Frances Strode, of Winchester, and Mr. Clay Sutherland, of Paris, will be solemnized at five o'clock to-morrow afternoon, Wednesday, June 24, at the First Baptist church, in Winchester. The bridesmaids will be Misses Elizabeth Crutcher, of Paris, Annette Cole, Helen Fox and Louise Haggard, of Winchester. Mrs. Cecil Haggard, of Winchester, will be the matron of honor. Mr. Phelps Renick, of Winchester, the groom's only first cousin, will be "best man." The groomsmen will be Mr. Stanley Dickson and Mr. William Collins, of North Middletown, and Hugh McDonald and James Allen, both of Winchester.

A number of pre-nuptial social events have marked the approach of the happy event. A charming informal affair was given by Miss Helen Fox, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Tanner, in Winchester, in honor of the bride-elect. A dainty luncheon was served, and the honor guest was showered with attractive presents. On Friday night an enjoyable river party was given by the River Club, of Winchester, in honor of Miss Strode and Mr. Sutherland. The attractive club house was prettily decorated for the occasion, and much of the time was spent indoors, on account of the downpour of rain. The young people enjoyed dancing and swimming, and during the evening a delightful picnic dinner was served.

The guests were for the most part Winchester people, but among those present besides Mr. Sutherland was Mr. Will S. Arnsperger, of Paris.

BIRTHS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stanhope Wiedemann, of near Paris, are receiving congratulations upon the new arrival to bear their name. A son was born to Mrs. Wiedemann at the Good Samaritan Hospital, in Lexington, Saturday.

TOBACCO GROWERS OF UNITED STATES TO MEET.

Unusual interest is being manifested on the part of tobacco men in all sections of the United States in the annual meeting of the Tobacco Association of the United States, which will be held at the Chamberlain Hotel, Old Point Comfort, Va., June 26, 27, 28. T. M. Corrington, president of the association, and G. E. Webb, secretary and treasurer, both say the 1919 meeting will be in all respects the most interesting and by all odds the most valuable meeting ever held by the association. An attendance of at least 200 members is expected. The officers of the organization are anxious for a large attendance. The program will be interesting from start to finish. There is work for the association to do that affects the entire industry.

Never again, after their experience with Federal control of wires and railroads, will the people listen to advocates of government ownership.

RED CROSS TO DISTRIBUTE GAUZE TO HOSPITALS.

The American Red Cross is about to distribute to the hospitals of the United States approximately 25,000,000 yards of gauze, such distribution being based upon data procured and recommendations made by the American Hospital Association. Inquiries have already been received from various hospitals as to this possibility of utilizing the services of Red Cross workers in making up this material into surgical dressings. Assisting the civil hospitals of the country in this manner is thoroughly in accord with the present policies of the Red Cross.

"Chapters will be urged," says a report from Lake Division headquarters of the American Red Cross, "to volunteer the services of their workers to local hospitals in making up materials supplied by such hospitals into the surgical dressings, hospital garments or hospital supplies."

"By thus offering to hospitals the service of Red Cross workers the value of the contribution to be made will be greatly increased and the Red Cross will effectively demonstrate its appreciation of co-operation given during the stress of war."

These recommendations were made recently in a letter from F. C. Monroe, General Manager of the American Cross at Washington, D. C., will answer the questions which have been asked from time to time as to what the Red Cross is doing with this material not in use at the time of the signing of the armistice.

After trying for nearly five years, the Germans are in Paris at last. But they aren't boasting about it.

MUSIC TEACHERS TO MEET IN LOUISVILLE.

A convention of the Kentucky Music Teachers' Association will be held at Louisville this week on Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Anna Chandler Goff is the President of the Association and will go to Louisville to be in the chair at the formal sessions which are to be at the Louisville Public Library. Mr. Charles N. Boyd, President of the National Association of Music Teachers, is expected to be present and a luncheon is planned in his honor on Wednesday.

Mr. Georges Vigneti, Mr. Albert d'Scheu Habberstro, Miss Myrtle Critchfield, of the Lexington College of Music, are all mentioned as being on the program, and Dr. McVey, President of the University of Kentucky, will give an address before the convention on Thursday morning.

CUT THOSE WEEDS!

Is that weed patch yours? Cut them down. The city is just as responsible as a private owner, and should not overlook an opportunity to set an example for others to follow. Some vegetable matter may be pretty and pleasing to the eye, and yet be a menace to the health of the community.

The Board of Health will enforce the ordinance regarding the cutting of weeds in the city. They must be cut within five days from date of this notice.

A. H. KELLER,
City Health Officer.

MASONIC HOME CAMPAIGN ATTRACTING GREAT INTEREST

The reports from all over Kentucky to G. Allison Holland, chairman of the million dollar drive for the Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home, indicate the liveliest interest in the movement. People are writing constantly to headquarters in Lexington to obtain information in regard to it, and the mail is growing larger each day. Substantial contributions have been sent from the Bourbon county lodges, with an assurance of more to follow.

Larger numbers of applications for admission to Masonic lodges are being received than ever before in the history of the order in Kentucky. Since the close of the war there has been unprecedented interest manifested in Masonic circles.

PEOPLE GATHERED HAIL AND FROZE ICE CREAM.

A terrific hail storm in the Big White Oak neighborhood near Greenup, Ky., did damage to the growing crops.

The hail fell for nearly an hour and several people gathered it and made ice cream—practically about all they will derive from this spring's hard work. Corn and garden truck were cut off to the ground, wheat and oats were beaten into the soft earth, pastures were ruined and young trees were stripped of their limbs. The storm had a path about a mile wide and probably three miles in length and all growing stuff was killed in its path.
